NFW YORK, STOCK EXCHANGE, NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Today's market was largely given over to what are known as the specialties. There was an upward rush of prices in these stocks at the opening, but the evidence of weakness in sugar, which dominates the specialties quickly brought realizing sales. The tone was rather heavy and at times somewhat feverish for the rest of the day.

Manhattan jumped 5-8 above par on President Gould's talk of early electrical equipment, but the character of the selling at the advance aroused distrust and the bears raided the stock. The extreme range of both these stocks was more than 4 per cent, and New York Air Brake, which rose over two points in the early dealings reacted $1.4. To-bacco also ranged over $1.2 points and closed practically unchanged. These care over the early dealings reacted $1.4. To-bacco also ranged over $1.2 points and closed practically unchanged. These were very erratic, and the dam stocks were very erratic, and the dam stocks were very erratic, and the dam stocks were very erratic, and the market was continued today by further large engagements of gold from London, by a debit balance against the sub-treasury of $1.21.444, and by demands upon domestic centres. New York exchange in Chicago rose from 10 cents usecount to 10 cents premium. call money in London rose 1-2 per cent., open market discounts there rose 1-8 to 3-8 per cent., and the Bank of England raised its minimum rate of discount from 21-2 to 3 per cent., after having borrowed largely from the market to raise the rate to the level of its own. The demand for silver dollars for shipment to the west has led to the subtreasury giving notice that the dollars must be paid for in silver certificates or treasury notes since the supply of coin has been nearly reduced to the amount of outstanding silver certificates.

Wise, of Williamsburg, was yesterday afternoon nominated as the Congressional candidate of that faction of the Republicun party of which he has for several years been the head. Cheer after cheer went up from the large audience that filled the seats in Armory Hall, and the only word that was heard above the storm of applause was "Wise! Wise! Wise! The convention was called to assemble at noon, but owing to various delays, some of which were due to late arrivals, it was nearly 1 o'clock when Chairman Carney entered the hall and, in the midst of a hearty greeting from the midst of a hearty greeting from the waiting delegates, proceeded to the platform and rapped for order. He made no speech, but turning to Mr. A. C. Peachy, secretary of the Second district Congressional Committee, requesting him to read a letter he had received recently from Chairman Hull, of the National Congressional Committee. Mr. Peachy read as follows:

"I will see the President again tomorrow and talk with him further in regard to the situation in your State.

"Very truly yours.

"J. A. HULL."

The reading of this letter brought forth a demonstration from the convention. The delegates awang their hat's in the air and shouted and screamed with a vigor that threatened serious damage to their vocal organs. Mr. Carney finally secured order, however, after which Mr. Peachy read the official and announced the number of votes according to each county. This done, the chair informed the convention that nominations for temporary chairman and secretary were in order, and the names of John H. Robinson, of this city, and Jordan Thompson, of Suffolk, were presented. The latter withdrew his name, however, and Delegate Robinson was elected by acclamation. In the same way Mr. Peachy was made secretary. Then, upon the motion of Mr. Alvah Martin, of Portsmouth, the members of each delegation were requested to report the namic of once of their number for service on the committee on credentials and a third for the committee on credentials and a third for the committee on permanent organization. CAUSE AND EFFECT,
Green owns a few lots out on the Boulevard, so, of course, it was perfectly natural for him to be there early yesterday morning, about 9:30, to be exact, says the Detroit Free Press.

He was standing on the sidewalk looking down the wide avenue when Brown rode up on his wheel.

Green knew Brown had no lots on the Boulevard, and he was surprised to see him away out there so carrly.

He shouted to him. Brown rode alongside the curb and dismounted from his '96 model.

"What are you doing out here so early." asked Green.

"Came out to put my shoe strings in."

"To put my shoe strings in."

"Say, old man, you want to 'take something. You're all run down."

"I'll explaim," said Brown, and then he continued: "You see, my wife is away visiting, and when I came out of the house this mornin I left the latch key on the inside of the door, so I can't get in the house. I broke my shoe strings from the continued: "You see, my wife is away visiting, and when I came out to the house this mornin I left the latch key on the inside of the door, so I can't get in the house. I broke my shoe strings springing to catch a car, and I'm changing offices, so when I bought a new pair of strings down town there was no place where I could take off my shoes to put 'em in. So I got my wheel—left it against the fence in our back yard—and rode out here where one doesn't see anyhody."

"Well, what do you think of that!" exclaimed Green. "Why in the world didn't you put the strings in your shoes at the store where you bought them?" Brown's jaw fell." By Jove, old man," he said, slowly, "I never thought of that."

As he rode away Green remarked: "Well, a chap who will ride a '96 model is capable of anything."

Trinity College, of Durham, N. C., has received in all $700,000 from the two lot and setting the seal of condemna-tion upon the Democratic party of this District.

Third, That we condemn the exten-sion of the Civil Service as made by ex-President Cleveland as a measure nex-er contemplated when the law was first enacted. We favor such modifications of the rules as will insure fathful and efficient service to the government, and we do hereby request the nominee of this convention to tend all aid in his power to the President of the United States to bring about such a result."

The resolutions were adopted, after which the committee went into the elec-tion of members of the State comittee, and Judge C. W. Murdaugh, of Ports-mouth; A. C.Peachy, of Newport News, and Jordan Thompson, of Suffolk, were chosen. and Judge C. W. Murdaugh, of Portsmouth: A. C.Peachy, of Newport News, and Jordan Thompson, of Suffolk, were chosen.

The only animated scene during the convention occurred while a motion to select three members of the district committee was under consideration. A rambling colored orator from Norfolk, in a successful effort to kill time, raised the race issue by charging in contemptuous terms that one of his fellow Republicans of the Peanut City with being a Jew. Mr. Levy, the gentleman referred to, was on his feet in a twinkling, and for five minutes demonstrated the fact that, Jew or Gentile, he was able to take care of himself. His remarks were liberally applianced, and after he had resumed his seat the working the suggestion of Mr. T. M. Soulall, or Suggestion of Mr. T. M. Soulall, or M. Suggestion of Mr. T. M. Soulall, or M. Suggestion of Mr. T. M. Soulall, or the delegates then should fortan Thompson, members of the district committee by acctanation, voting for all three above the day, the nomination of the extenditude of the stand, and in a speech which was applianced to the school placed Dr. Wise in nomination, He described the kind of man the faction needed to lead it to victory stopping occasionally to pay his respects in caustic English to Mr. Bowden and his followers. In closing his address he said that, he wanted every delegate who feared the nomination of Dr. Wise to stand up for him courageously in the coming campaign.

As he rode away Green remarked: "Well, a chap who will ride a '96 model is caprille of anything."

Trinity College, of Durham, N. C., has received in all $700,000 from the two tobacco magnates, Washington Duke and Colonel Julian & Carr.

Dr. Samuel Eliot, ex-president of Trinity College, who died at Reverly, Mass, on Thursday last, was a former lecturer at Harvard and the oldest trustee of St. Paul's School.

Several speeches followed, but the crowning address was delivered by Jordan Thompson, a colored delegate from Suffolk. His speech was one of the bost ever heard in Hampton. Following this Dr. Wise was formally nominated, and a committee consisting of Chairman Carney, A. C. Peachy and delegate Prior was appointed to conduct Dr. Wise to the Hall. He appeared a few minutes later and was loudly cheered as he passed up, the alist to the platform. The Dr. delivered an address of half an hour's length which greatity pleased the delegates. He said that he had been authoritatively advised that Senator Hanna had expressed his intention of recognizing the recent action of the National Congressional Committee.

IN MEMORY OF BISMARCK.

The Iron Chancellor's Bedroom to Remish as He Left 11.

Bismarck, the great German Chancellor, died as he had lived, amid simple surroundings. His bedroom at Friedrichrushe in which he died, was Friedrichrushe in which he died, was furnished with almost severe austerity. Beyond a simple walnut bedstead, a night table a couple of common chairs and two bookshelves, there was no furniture in the room until the last few months of the prince's illness, when a comfortable settee was placed in the room, because he was tired of lying in bed all the time. At the left of his bed over a small stand there is a picture of Schonhausen, his birthplace, and above that a photograph of Tyras, his favorite dog. At the right similarly hung, are the castle of Varvin, and above it his favorite sadde-horse. Over the bookshelf by the siée wall hangs the portrait of his imperis, master, William I, which the emperor gave him upon his 76th birthday anniversary. On the whole the room looked more like the humble apartment of a student than that of a wealthy and famous statesman. On the table next to be bed the pipe still rests, which he collapse, from which he never recovered. "Give me ten cents mamma," persisted the boy, with flaxen curis, "and I'll take the medicine."
"No, Clifford," exclaimed the sweet woman, tears spring to her eyes, "pap's salary is cut and five cents is all we can afford!"

SUASION.

Obetroit Journal.)

Now was come the age of moral sunsion, when purental kindness was rattling around trying to fill the place of the rod and trunk strap.

"Give me 16 cents, mamma," persisted the boy with flaxen curls, "and Flitake the medicine!"

"No Clifford!" exclaimed the sweet woman, tears springing to her eyes, papa's salary is cut, and five cents is all we can afford!"

Inwardly, however, she thinks what a terrible thing is poverty. THE PIE THAT KILLS.

THE PIE THAT KILLS.

(Baltimore American.)
The returned soldier gazed eagerly into her eyes, so heautifully bine.
"I could die for you," he said, with considerable emotion.
"Perhaps," she rejoined icily, "but you didn't prove it."
True, he had been in camp, but for some inserutable reason he had never tasted pie.

UNQUESTIONABLY. (New York Journal.) When Shakespeare wrote "What's in name?"

He dealt a cut unkind,
For there's no doubt but that he had
A bathing suit in mind.
